

LESSONS FROM CHURCH HISTORY

Week 4: More Lessons from the Early Church Fathers

LESSONS FROM THE EARLY CHURCH FATHERS

Map of Early Church Fathers

MORE LESSONS FROM THE EARLY CHURCH FATHERS

JOHN CHRYSOSTOM

(347-407 AD) – Bishop of Constantinople

- Nicknamed “Golden Mouth” (Greek Chrysostom) because of eloquent preaching. One of greatest preachers in church history.
- Mother Anathusa nurtured him in the faith.
- Studied law then became a monk for 6 years.
- Studied under Diodore of Tarsus who taught him Literal-Grammatical-Historical method of interpretation (Antiochene vs. Alexandrian).
- Expository preacher: Genesis (75); Psalms (144); Matthew (90); John (88); Paul’s letters (244).

“Preaching makes me well; as soon as I open my mouth to speak, my weariness is forgotten.”

MORE LESSONS FROM THE EARLY CHURCH FATHERS

CHURCH OF HOLY WISDOM

2nd church completed in 415
& burnt down again. Current church completed in 537.

1st church completed in
360. Burnt down during riots surrounding Chrysostom's exile.

Largest church for nearly 1000 years.
Now a Muslim mosque.

MORE LESSONS FROM THE EARLY CHURCH FATHERS

JOHN CHRYSOSTOM

(347-407 AD) – Bishop of Constantinople

- Secretly wrested away from Antioch and made bishop of Constantinople where he preached against corruption among both clergy & laity.
- Protected many citizens from tyranny of Eutropius in the church, then did the same for Eutropius after his power waned and mobs sought his death.
- The Empress Euxodia conspired with Theophilus, bishop of Alexandria, to bring false charges against Chrysostom. He peacefully surrendered to them.
- An earthquake prevented his exile and he surrendered a second time as the people rioted. A fire broke out and destroyed the church.
- Tortured during long walk to banishment and died.

LESSONS FROM THE EARLY CHURCH FATHERS

Map of Early Church
Fathers

MORE LESSONS FROM THE EARLY CHURCH FATHERS

AUGUSTINE

(354-430 AD) – Bishop of Hippo

- Born in 354 to a devout Christian mother named Monica and a pagan father who was a Roman official.
- Brilliant from an early age, he received an excellent education in Carthage. Augustine rejected Christianity as a religion for the simple-minded.
- While still a teenager, Augustine took a concubine who bore him a son.
- Augustine moved from Carthage to Rome to Milan...where he met Bishop Ambrose.

MORE LESSONS FROM THE EARLY CHURCH FATHERS

AUGUSTINE

(354-430 AD) – Bishop of Hippo

- In 386 when he was 32, in a garden, a child's singsong voice said, "Take it and read; take it and read." Nearby was a copy of Paul's letter and he read Romans 13:13, 14.
- Baptized on Easter in 387 by Ambrose, then ordained in 391, Augustine became Bishop of the North African city of Hippo in 395.
- He established a monastery on the grounds of the church in Hippo and for nearly 40 years churned out biblically sound priests and bishops who were installed across Africa.

MORE LESSONS FROM THE EARLY CHURCH FATHERS

AUGUSTINE

(354-430 AD) – Bishop of Hippo

- He led the church through the Donatist controversy, then persevered through a long engagement in the Pelagian heresy.
- In Confessions, he wrote perhaps the first real spiritual autobiography. His work On the Trinity is probably the best-known work on the subject, and City of God may be his most important work.
- Augustine's teaching was original in his day and dominated scholars of the Middle Ages, while trickling down to Luther and Calvin, fueling the Reformation.
- Sovereign Joy - "Grace is God's giving us sovereign joy in God that triumphs over joy in sin."